 Accompanying Person's Name:

* Registration fees for people with Parkinson's, caregivers, and guests are at two levels, full-priced and discounted. Our aim is to encourage as many people with Parkinson's as possible to attend. Registrants who are able to pay the full registration amount for are encouraged to do so. Full-priced registrations help make it possible to offer a discounted rate to patients or caregivers who would otherwise be unable to attend keeping the WPC open to as many people in the PD community as possible, and increasing geographic, professional and economic diversity of the delegates.

The category you choose to register under will only be known by you and the organizers and will in no way affect your access to all parts of the Congress.

- ° Guests will have full access to all sessions of the Congress.
- + Accompanying Persons will have limited access to the Congress but will be registered for a Glasgow City Tour on Wednesday, September 29 (details on page 28)
- † Health Professionals who are living with PD who wish to secure CME or CEU credits, must register as health professionals.
- § Delegates registering on or after September 25, 2010 will be charged the onsite rates.
- * Please supply a letter from your university/institution confirming your student/post doc status.

PD Game Night – Friday, October 1, 2010 from 17:00 – 18:30

The Brain Game – establishing once and for all who knows the most about the World, Parkinson's, the Congress and everything else for that matter. Split into seven categories representing all aspects of Parkinson's, the Brain Game sees the PD community go head-to-head to decipher who are the real experts. The winners will go on to lift the much coveted 'Basal Ganglia Bucket' (otherwise known as 'The Basil') and will be given the opportunity to donate their superior brains immediately afterwards!

Teams comprising PD Specialists, Healthcare Professionals, Administrators (including students), Pharma, Patients and Families, Researchers and the Media will do battle in this thrilling finale to the Congress, hosted by author and comedian Tony Hawks and The Cure Parkinson's Trust. Places are limited so register here or online and be a part of Parkinson's history.
